Attention: If your dog pays attention when you call its name, free play at the park or on the beach is possible. Teaching your dog to pay attention, with distractions, is a priority.

Sit: A simple reliable sit, can help stop your dog jumping on people and assist in developing self control in frantic dogs.

Walking Nicely: A dog that walks nicely on a lead, gets walked! Dogs that are regularly exercised and stimulated are less likely to become bored, which may result in nuisance barking, digging or escaping.

Tricks: Teaching simple tricks is stimulating for your dog, fun for children and results in many useful behaviours - fetching balls, slippers or the newspaper, offering a muddy paw for cleaning or ringing a bell to be allowed outside.

At Paw Behaviour ® Dog Training it is incredibly rewarding to see owners proud of what they achieve throughout an 8 week course and thrilled at their dog's progress, often saying things like "Wow, I didn't think he could do that". Scientifically based, positive reinforcement training methods work. You will learn the same training techniques used to teach wild animals - dolphins, elephants and birds.
